The Japaneze strikers at the Walpahu plantation are to be ordered from the premises this afternoon. A tele-phone message from Captain Sam Leslie this afternoon intimates that in this case the laborers will probably resent the order and that there is likely to be trouble. Every Japanese has received the money due him but is still on the satisfactory run to Honoium.

Being interested in yachting you realize fully how great an event in sporting circles this, the first yacht face across the Pacific, will be, and event though it may not be convenient for you to participate in the race we hope that you and many of your friends may arrange to come down by steamer.
